My Dear Sir!

I would most respectfully beg of you to ask the indulgence of this Convention: and request for me an indefinite leave of absence for the reasons of letters dee'd from my home requesting my immediate presence there upon matters of importance to me.

And in view of the most important parts and parcels of the Constitution having been disposed of. I ask this! Otherwise I would remain under any circumstances. You will also

Constitutional Convention

Dec. 4th 1863

Col. Young,

Dear Sir,

Will you be kind enough to ask the indulgence of the Convention, and request for me an indefinite leave of absence; both on account of illness engendered in this hall preventing the performance of some of my duties here as well as important business which I am unable longer to defer.

Trusting in the efficacy of your kind pleading and the usual kindness and generosity of the Convention

I am My dear Sir

Yours &c James Stark
